

The diagram illustrates the two types of gene expression: Coding and Non-coding. The Coding track shows a sequence of exons (orange) and introns (purple) with arrows indicating the direction of transcription. The Non-coding track shows a similar sequence but with a large purple block representing a non-coding RNA gene. The diagram is divided into two main sections: Coding and Non-coding.

