

The diagram illustrates the process of gene expression. The top part shows a DNA sequence with exons (green) and introns (blue). The bottom part shows the mRNA sequence (green) and the protein sequence (blue). The legend indicates that green represents coding regions and blue represents non-coding regions.

